BURGER KING® RESTAURANTS NATIONWIDE INTRODUCE PREMIUM CHICKEN SANDWICH ON BUN MADE WITH WHOLE GRAINS

MIAMI - June 22, 2010 - Burger King Corp. (NYSE: BKC) today announced that its TENDERGRILL® Chicken Sandwich will now be served on a toasted ciabatta bun made with whole grains. The premium sandwich will continue to feature the same juicy flame-grilled chicken filet, crisp lettuce and fresh tomato that guests love, while the new bun provides less calories, fat and sodium compared to the previous offering, plus the benefit of a bun made with whole grains. This nutritionally-improved sandwich will debut at BURGER KING® restaurants in the U.S. on June 21 for a suggested retail price of $3.99.

"Product innovation is at the core of our brand and we are focused not only on introducing new products, but consistently evolving and improving our current menu offerings, including proven guest favorites like the TENDERGRILL® Chicken Sandwich," said John Schaufelberger, BKC’s senior vice president, global product marketing and innovation. "By adding a new premium ciabatta bun made with whole grains to this popular sandwich, I’m confident that our guests will appreciate that this product is a great addition to a nutritionally-balanced lifestyle, without compromising on taste."

As part of BKC’s HAVE IT YOUR WAY® brand promise, the new ciabatta bun offers a menu option for guests that can help them meet individual diet and lifestyle preferences. BKC’s new ciabatta bun is made with whole wheat flour, providing eight grams of whole grains, as well as fewer calories, less fat and sodium.

The TENDERGRILL® Chicken Sandwich has 470 calories and is the latest addition to the more than 350 BURGER KING® meal combinations that provide 650 calories or less - approximately one-third of a daily 2,000 calorie diet.
